5.1.1 EXCHANGES AND THEIR EXTENDED AREA SERVICE (EAS) POINTS

A. General

Extended Area Service entitles the customer to service without other charge to all access lines connected with a designated exchange, commonly called Extended Area Service. EAS refers to such service provided by means of special extended service circuits between the two exchanges.

Extended area service may not be terminated once established except through a termination plan that continues rates for a sufficient period of time after the investment is removed to recover costs. Such consideration may be made on a case-by-case basis.

Where EAS is provided, the exchanges with which it is provided are shown indented below the principal exchange.

5.1.2 EXCHANGE AREA RATE GROUPS

1. Local exchange service rates are established under a state-wide grouping plan generally recognizing both value and cost of service and based upon the number of terminals available, without toll charge, within the local calling service area. In this manner, local exchange service rates are applied uniformly throughout the state by size of exchange and scope of service available to customers.

Local Exchange Main Line Service rates apply for each local exchange access line.

2. Classification of Exchanges by Rate Groups. All Exchanges have Local Measured Service available.

5. EXCHANGE SERVICES

5.2 LOCAL EXCHANGE SERVICE

A. Application of Business and Residence Rates

1. General

- a. This section describes the application of business and residence rates.
- b. Business service is furnished to customers at a location that is primarily used for performing a business, trade or practice.
- c. Residence service is furnished at a location used primarily for domestic purposes.
- d. Where residence service is permitted in non-residential locations, such as at churches or elementary schools, only one-party service shall be provided within the base rate area. Also where shared usage with another party would not be practical, such as fraternity and sorority houses or similar locations, only one-party service shall be provided within the base rate area.
- e. Customers changing from business service to residence service will be assigned a different telephone number. Referral to the new residence number assigned will not be provided.

2. Business Service

Business rates apply at the following locations:

- Office, stores, factories and all other places of a strictly business nature.
- Hospitals.
- Administrative locations of nursing homes and homes for the aged.
- Colleges and universities (excluding dormitories).
- Senior High, Junior High Schools and elementary schools.
- Day care centers.
- Administrative offices of church organizations such as denominational state or district headquarters. (Does not include individual churches.)

5. EXCHANGE SERVICES

5.2 LOCAL EXCHANGE SERVICE

A.2. (Cont'd)

- Quarters occupied by charitable organizations, libraries, clubs, civic organizations and fraternal societies. Where the quarters of a club or fraternal society are infrequently used, such as for weekly meetings, and no attendant or administrative staff is provided, residence service may be installed. Fraternal societies, as here used, does not include college fraternity or sorority houses in which members lodge or board.
- At any location, including residence, where the customer advertises with a business listing, except when a residence number is an alternative call number in connection with a business telephone number.
- At any location provided to or through a reseller of local exchange service.

3. Residence Service[1]

Residence rates apply at the following locations:

- Private residences. This location typically contains cooking and sleeping facilities.
- Buildings which are a part of the customer's domestic establishment and used only for domestic purposes such as private garages, stables and boat houses.
- Private rooms or apartments including those located in hotels, clubs, nursing homes and homes for the aged where the service is confined.
- College dormitories, fraternity and sorority houses where the members lodge or board.
- Rooms occupied by clubs or fraternal societies which are infrequently used, such as for weekly meetings, and no attendant or staff is regularly provided (see also definition under Business Service).
- Churches, even though the telephone is to be used for church administrative purposes. See "Business Service" for administrative offices of church organizations.
- Senior High, Junior High (see definition under business section) and Elementary schools. Applies only at locations in service prior to December 31, 1989.

[1] Except for schools and churches, Hunting Service will not be provided on residential service.
